Call for CIO and Senior IT Executive Speakers – CIO Summit

June 14, 2010 – The CIO Summit team announced today that they are looking for CIOs and technology executives to speak, present and participate in panel discussions at the upcoming technology event to be held November 7-10, 2010 in Scottsdale, Arizona. Interested IT executives can visit <http://www.ciosummit.us/callforspeakers/> for more information.

The CIO Summit brings together technology innovators from multiple industries to network with their peers, attend educational sessions and learn about the latest technology solutions. Some of the industries represented at the event include healthcare, transportation, finance and telecom.

Speakers at the CIO Summit will have the opportunity to participate in a strategic agenda that includes case studies, one-on-one meetings, panel discussions, and keynote presentations. Qualified speakers, panelists and presenters will receive complimentary accommodations, food and drink at the event. To learn more about speaking at the CIO Summit, please visit <http://www.ciosummit.us/callforspeakers/>.

“The key to hosting a truly successful CIO event is to recruit speakers with innovative ideas who can push the IT envelope. These ideas spur conversations and these conversations lead to solutions. That way, each executive who attends the event can go back to their office with an action list that will make their organization run more efficiently and more effectively,” said Glenn Willis, EVP, CIO Summit.

Topics to be covered on this year’s strategic agenda include cloud computing, the evolving data center, data security and integrity, social media, and utilizing green IT in the enterprise. Confirmed attendees include Jackie Barretta, CIO, Con-way Freight; Jim Crawford, VP & Southern California BIO, Kaiser Permanente; and Rick Arther, VP & CIO, Allegheny Energy.

If you are interested in participating in the CIO Summit, contact Glenn Willis at glenn.willis@cdmmedia.com or 808-694-3700. For more information about the event, please visit <http://www.ciosummit.us/>.
