FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

CIOs of Orange County and City of Orlando to Join the CIO Government Summit – Agenda Topic to Include Public Cloud Adoption and Security

April 7, 2010 – The CIO Government Summit, leading educational conference for technology leaders in the government sector, is pleased to announce the most recently confirmed attendees whom will participate in the. Newly confirmed delegates include the CIOs from the City of Los Angeles, California’s Orange County, City of El Paso Texas and the City of Orlando, Florida. The CIO Government Summit will gather CIOs and IT innovators in Scottsdale, AZ at the InterContinental Montelucia Resort, May 23-26, 2010.

“We’re pleased to welcome the latest confirmed CIO attendees. The CIO Government Summit is designed to provide an educational platform for CIOs to meet and discuss IT strategy as it affects government. It’s important that we have CIO representation from various areas of government and the latest CIOs confirmed to attend represent some of the most forward thinking cities in the nation. We’re looking forward to the event and the value that will be created by the CIO peer interaction,” said Mark Southam, Event Director, CIO Government Summit.

The CIO Government Summit will include an array of strategy sessions that allow CIOs to share insights and experiences. The summit’s agenda includes CIO think-tank sessions, CIO thought-leadership presentations, CIO case studies, executive visions panels and keynote presentations from some of the most influential members of the government technology community. Topics to be addresses at this year’s CIO Government Summit include;

- “Enabling High Performance with Next Generation Infrastructure”
- “How to Manage Information to Achieve High Performance in Public Sector”
- “Head in the Cloud?”
- “Building a Smarter Planet and Smarter Government with Cloud and Analytics”

Agenda topics are determined by the CIOs and influenced by a board of executive leaders, including the CIO

Government Summit's Master of Ceremonies, Harvey Koeppel, Executive Director for the Center of CIO Leadership.

The CIO delegate attendees of the CIO Government Summit will have the opportunity to interact with peers throughout the course of the summit and within the agenda sessions. To find out more about the CIO Government Summit agenda or if you're interested in attending the educational summit as a delegate, please contact Mark Southam, Event Director, CIO Government Summit at mark.southam@cdmmedia.com.

About the CIO Government Summit

The CIO Government Summit will be hosted May 23 -26, 2010, at the InterContinental Montelucia Resort in Scottsdale, AZ. The summit is designed to provide an educational and content focused forum for North America's senior IT executives in the government sector. The CIOs, C-level IT executives and IT decision makers that attend the CIO Government Summit will participate in a strategic three-day agenda filled with workshops, case studies and keynote presentations focusing industry trends and challenges. The CIO Government Summit is organized by the Strategic Business Summit (SBS) division of CDM Media. This SBS division delivers effective, vertically-focused events for IT leaders in technology.
