CIO Insurance Summit Welcomes Representatives From Zurich, Chartis And FCCI Insurance

June 16, 2010 – The CIO Insurance Summit team announced today the new delegates who will be attending the upcoming technology event: Sandeep Manchanda, CIMO, Zurich Financial Services; Patrick Lanza, VP & CIO, Chartis Insurance; and Brenda Davis, SVP & CIO, FCCI Insurance.

To be held The October 17-20, 2010 in Scottsdale, Arizona, the CIO Insurance Summit is an exclusive networking and educational opportunity that brings together leading CIOs, technology executives and industry analysts in a relaxed, yet focused business environment. The Summit is an exclusive opportunity for attendees to discuss IT topics and trends, explore technology solutions, and make valuable business contacts.

“At the CIO Insurance Summit, executives are more than just attendees, they are active participants in the event. They drive the conversations during the agenda sessions to focus on the topics that they feel are most important to their organizations. It is these conversations that make the summit valuable and allow attendees to discover solutions to the IT issues that they face on a daily basis,” said Mark Southam, Event Director, CIO Insurance Summit.

This year’s strategic agenda will focus on internal operational efficiencies, core systems strategies, practical SOA and security, and performance management. A much-anticipated agenda session will be presented by Diamond Management and Technology Consultants, Inc., a leading technology consulting company that designs and executes business strategies that capitalize on changing market forces and technology.

Other insurance companies represented at the event include Farmers Insurance, Armed Forces Insurance and Marsh McLennan.
