Participate in Upcoming Event for Healthcare CIOs and IT Executives

August 4, 2010 – The CIO Healthcare Summit team is currently looking for CIOs and senior technology executives to participate in the upcoming event’s strategic agenda as a keynote speaker, panelist or moderator. The technology event will be held December 12-15, 2010 in Scottsdale, Arizona. If you are interested in speaking at the event, please visit www.ciohealthcaresummit.com/callforspeakers.

The CIO Healthcare Summit brings together more than 50 CIOs from leading healthcare organizations across the U.S. to make critical business contacts and learn about new technology solutions that can improve IT operations at their organizations. The event is a unique opportunity for executives to discuss, among a group of their peers and coworkers, the technology issues that are affecting their organizations.

The event’s strategic agenda includes case studies, panel discussions and keynote presentations, as well as CIO think-tank sessions and networking opportunities. Topics to be discussed include: Meaningful Use, the consumer health movement, improving patient care through mobility, cloud computing and more.

Executives who are qualified to speak at the event will receive complimentary travel, accommodations and food and drink for the duration of the event. Qualifications include:

- Senior level decision maker at a national healthcare organization (i.e. CIO, CTO, SVP, EVP)
- Executive level experience in an national healthcare organization either in line of business or with a direct technology focus

“The CIO Healthcare Summit that we held in May of this year was such a success that we decided to add another healthcare event to the 2010 schedule. The technology event in December will bring together some of the best and brightest in the industry to discuss the current and upcoming industry changes, and it will allow IT executives to position themselves and their organization for a successful 2012,” said Mark Southam, Event Director, CIO Healthcare Summit.

For more information about the CIO Healthcare Summit, visit www.ciohealthcaresummit.com. If you are interested in speaking at the event, please fill out the speaker registration form at www.ciohealthcaresummit.com/callforspeakers. Only a few speaking slots remain.
