CIO Utilities Summit Welcomes Warren Causey of Five Point Partners as Master of Ceremonies

February 2, 2011 – The CIO Utilities Summit team announced today that Warren Causey, VP, Strategy Research & Analysis, Five Point Partners LLC, will act as the Master of Ceremonies for the upcoming technology event, June 12 – 14, 2011 in Scottsdale, Arizona.

The CIO Utilities Summit is an opportunity for CIOs and senior technology executives to network with their peers and discuss the latest IT topics and trends in a relaxed, yet focused business setting. The event's agenda has been updated to include CIO Think Tanks, Analyst Q&A sessions and CIO Roundtables. These sessions will allow attending CIOs and senior executives to have in-depth discussions, share ideas and talk about project successes and failures.

As Master of Ceremonies for the technology event, Causey will provide the welcome address and closing remarks during the event as well as leadership on site. He also acted as the Master of Ceremonies for the 2010 CIO Utilities Summit.

Causey is a researcher, writer and consultant who has worked with technology and innovation for more than 30 years. He is a renowned speaker and writer on utility business and IT topics, specializing in the utility industry since the early 1990s. He worked on ARPANET, the military predecessor of the Internet, when it still was a closely guarded military secret. He has written more than 30 books, dozens of reports and hundreds of magazine articles for leading utility industry publications. Causey has also worked as principle-in-charge for a wide variety of utility projects including IT performance evaluation and gap analysis at Florida Power & Light, Nstar, Xcel Energy and many others.

"I am thrilled to welcome Warren Causey back to the CIO Utilities Summit as the event's Master of Ceremonies. His leadership and vast knowledge was and continues to be a great addition to the event, adding immense value for the attending executives," said Ross Abbott, Event Director, CIO Utilities Summit.
