CIO Utilities Summit Welcomes Delegates From PG&E, U.S. Gas & Electric and More

March 21, 2011 – The CIO Utilities Summit team announced today a few of the delegates who have signed on to attend the event, including representatives from PG&E, U.S. Gas & Electric, BELCO and Clark County PUD.

The CIO Utilities Summit, June 12-14, 2011 in Scottsdale, Arizona, brings together more than 50 C-level delegates as well as technology analysts and solution providers to network and attend educational sessions, including CIO Think Tanks, analysts Q&A sessions, panel discussions and keynote presentations. Held in a relaxed, yet focused setting, the technology event is an opportunity for attendees to make new business contacts and discuss IT topics and trends.

A few of the executives attending the event:

- Bill DePrater, Client Portfolio Lead & IT Business Partner, PG&E
- Christian Blais, VP, IT, BELCO
- Michael Harris, CIO, Clark County PUD
- Greg Taffet, CIO, U.S. Gas & Electric

Warren Causey, VP, Strategy Research & Analysis, Five Point Partners LLC will act as the Master of Ceremonies at the event.

Agenda topics to be discussed include public and private cloud computing, cybersecurity issues in the utilities industry, customer communications management, smart grid, mobility, and achieving innovation.
