CDM MEDIA ANNOUNCES MIDMARKET AWARD WINNER, ACCELLION

CHICAGO, June 27, 2012—CDM Media announced that Accellion, Inc., the pioneer in providing enterprise-class, secure and mobile file sharing solutions, was awarded “Most Innovative Technology” at the 2012 Midmarket Summit, held in Scottsdale, Ariz., June 3-5, 2012.

The CIO Midmarket Summit is a chance for CIOs and IT executives from mid-sized companies to attend in-depth educational sessions, network with a group of peers, meet with solutions providers and make critical business contacts. Summit attendees represented multiple industries, including health care, finance, insurance, government, telecom, utilities and education.

Accellion was nominated for demonstrating outstanding work at the event, by a voting audience of all vendors and delegates in attendance.

“On behalf of CDM Media, I want to congratulate Accellion for earning a vendor award at the CIO Midmarket Summit,” said CDM Media Vice President Mark Southam. “We’ve had the opportunity to work with Accellion, and their solution offerings have always proven beneficial to our attending delegates. The company is very deserving of the award, and I look forward to watching them continue to develop and advance in their particular specialty.”
