CDM MEDIA ANNOUNCES MOBILITY SUMMIT AWARD WINNER, ACCELLION

CHICAGO, September 5, 2012—CDM Media announced today that Accellion, a leading provider of enterprise-class, secure and mobile file sharing solutions, was awarded the “CIO Choice Award” at the 2012 Mobility Summit, Aug. 30-31, 2012, in Scottsdale, Ariz.

The Mobility Summit is an opportunity for attendees to make new business contacts, have in-depth conversations with C-level peers and learn about the latest mobility best practices and solutions during think tanks, panel discussions, analyst Q&As and more.

“We would like to congratulate Accellion on winning the CIO Choice Award at this year’s Mobility Summit,” said CDM Media VP Sales, North America Ross Abbott. “The scope and quality of Accellion’s offerings is highlighted by the company’s robust client base and track record of consistently delivered results. They’re a valuable asset for enterprises engaging with mobility, so it’s no surprise that they were met with acclaim from some of today’s leading CIOs and IT executives at the event. We look forward to more of their key participation in future events.”

Accellion was nominated for demonstrating outstanding work at the summit by a voting audience of all CIOs and IT executives in attendance.

"Accellion's offering is built with the needs of the enterprises and business users in mind—emphasizing security, compliance and ease of use," said Reza Nabavi, director of mobile product marketing at Accellion. "We're proud to accept this year's CIO Choice Award as it not only recognizes that core focus, but also solidifies that CIOs and IT executives are confident using our secure content mobility solution in their mobile workforce."
