CDM MEDIA ANNOUNCES MOBILITY SUMMIT AWARD WINNER, WATCHDOX

CHICAGO, September 6, 2012-CDM Media announced today that WatchDox, the provider of a leading document-centric security platform, was awarded the "Game Changer Award" at the 2012 Mobility Summit, Aug. 30-31, 2012, in Scottsdale, Ariz.

The Mobility Summit is an opportunity for attendees to make new business contacts, have in-depth conversations with C-level peers and learn about the latest mobility best practices and solutions during think tanks, panel discussions, analyst Q&As and more.

"Congratulations to WatchDox on winning the Game Changer Award at this year's Mobility Summit," said CDM Media VP Sales, North America Ross Abbott. "WatchDox gives enterprises the opportunity to have complete and secure control over documents accessed and shared on any of today's popular devices—an invaluable offering amid the current push for BYOD. The company is ahead of the game, and was a clear choice for the award."

WatchDox was nominated by all Mobility Summit attendees for outstanding and innovative work, as demonstrated during the summit.

"We are honored to receive this year's Game Changer Award and the recognition from the mobility leaders who attended this year's Mobility Summit," said WatchDox Senior Director, Product Marketing & Strategy Tim Choi. "This award validates our strategy of delivering innovative document collaboration solutions built on top of document-centric security. With the rise of the mobile, collaborative enterprise, there is a growing need to protect corporate documents wherever they go."
