Why? Here's our take

↕ Our ability to execute

We know enterprise hosting. Whether you need cloud hosting, managed hosting, or you need to set up your own private cloud, we can help. In fact, many of the companies that provide the software products you use to run your business host with us. Learn more about enterprise hosting at Rackspace.

You can trust us. We're not like any other hosting company—and that's a good thing. Our people are exceptionally talented, driven, and committed to providing Fanatical Support[®] for your infrastructure. Learn more about Fanatical Support.
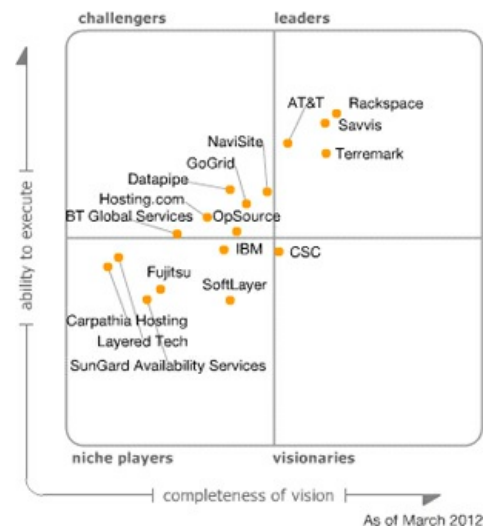

We'll help you find the right solution. Our Advisory Services team provides you with personalized help for your specific needs. We help you understand the technology you need. Learn more about Advisory Services.

↔ The completeness of our vision

We're thought leaders changing cloud hosting forever. We worked with NASA to develop OpenStack[®], an open-source, scalable cloud operating system that makes it easy to move data from one data center or service provider to another. Learn more about OpenStack.

We pay attention to your needs, then we create product offerings that meet them. For example, our distinctive RackConnect™ product blends the security of dedicated servers with the flexibility of the cloud. Learn more about RackConnect.
